Dear Future Owners,

We could only hope to convey in this letter even a fraction of what 19 Preston Drive has meant to us these past six years. How this space has evolved as our family has evolved. Matured as we've matured. But we will try to encapsulate the versatility and comfort, the security and flexibility that this house has offered us.

We found this house in the depths of COVID lockdown, among a housing hunt cast across a half dozen townships and after visiting more than twice as many listings, masked up all along the way. We were immediately drawn to its modern fixtures, its quiet but walkable-to-Town Center street, and its bigger-than-its-size feel. A large, open kitchen, high vaulted basement and primary bedroom ceilings, and a garage roomy enough to actually be used, and not just as a glorified storage shed.

What has followed is the intertwining transformation of a house into a home, and a couple into a family. This home welcomed our daughter, and thus booted our high strung Bichon Frise from his private palais (soon to be a nursery) to our home office. Two years later came our son, and that home office, to the same Bichon's chagrin, morphed into a baby boy's room. A man cave became a playroom. A foyer turned into a stroller parking lot and then back again. A kitchen twice took center stage as the site of first steps.

This backyard has been filled with bubbles, the living room strewn with holiday decorations and gift wrap shreds, and the front drag has been thoroughly strolled and scooted. The whole property has been coated in the pixie dust of discovery. Of infants and toddlers first discovering the world and of thirty-somethings discovering every bit of the partnership, planning, persistence and possibilities that parenting on Preston Drive had in store.

May you make as many happy memories here as we did. May you grow as much as people as we grew here. And whatever you plan for this space, just know, it has all that potential and more.

Sincerely,

Jake and Larissa
